

CAREER

SURVEYOR

Surveyors are the measurement experts! They measure and map construction sites to determine property boundaries and support project planning. With their knowledge of surveying equipment and techniques, they provide accurate spatial data for construction projects.

WHAT DOES THIS JOB INVOLVE?

Measuring land

Accurately surveying land and properties

Data collection

Gathering geospatial data and measurements

Mapping

Creating detailed maps and diagrams

Boundary Identification

Determining property boundaries

Construction Surveys

Providing layout for construction projects

Legal Documentation

Preparing survey reports and legal documents

Using Technology

Utilizing GPS and surveying instruments

Ensuring Accuracy

Maintaining precision and data integrity

HOW DO I GET INTO THIS CAREER?

A formal qualification in spatial information services or surveying is needed, often a diploma or advanced diploma.

SALARY EXPECTATIONS

Low $92,589

Average $124,395

High $174,376

RECOMMENDED TRAINING

CERTIFICATE IV IN SURVEYING OR SPATIAL INFORMATION

DIPLOMA OF SURVEYING OR SPATIAL INFORMATION

BACHELOR OF SURVEYING, SPATIAL INFORMATION OR ENGINEERING